Ultimate Coder

Introduction

Ultimate Coder provides the competitor with challenging environment and complexities. Ultimate Coder will test not only your programming skills but your ability to handle pressure, distractions and deadlines. It would be the ultimate test of your concentration skills with every round of it has a programming as well as a physical task associated with it. Programming task gets tougher and tougher as round levels get increased and distraction will not let you concentrate.

“It is easy to be a coder, but very hard to be an ULTIMATE CODER”

Gameplay

- The Event consists of three rounds. Candidates will be selected at each round based on points scored.
- User can code in any language he wants (But only in C, C++ and Java, not other than those).
- Each round will be of 15 mins. User have to write a program with performing task assigned in each round.
- Three winners will get selected at the end of competition.

Rounds

1. Single Hand Coding: Typing using only a single hand which isn't the participant's preferred hand. (That is if the participant is righty, then he'll type using his left hand). Participants are qualified on the basis of time. In this round, one eye of the programmer will be hidden. He has to code one Hand and One eye hidden.
2. Line Disappearing: As soon as the participant types a line and presses enter, that line should not be visible anymore. User have assigned a physical challenge of passing ball activity to distract from the concentration.
3. Pay for syntax Error: If more than 3 syntactical errors then the participant needs to start again typing from scratch. In this round, programmer have assigned a physical task. He has to code while performing the task.
